Herbs and health

Chives are good for digestion; use chopped chives on soups and salads.

Dill has a calming effect; use it on soups and salads.

Mint: if you like the taste, use it in drinks, salads and on rice and pasta.

Parsley is rich in vitamin C; use on soups, salads and vegetables.

Rosemary is good for your stomach; use it in lamb, meat and vegetable dishes.

Sage tea helps against colds; use it with fish and chicken, and in sauces.

Thyme works against coughs; use it with lamb and meat dishes.

1 From A to Z

A1

Look at the photos of fruits, herbs and vegetables.

Which ones do you know?

What are they called in English?

Work out with a partner what each of the fruits and vegetables are called. Write the appropriate letters next to the photos.

2 A healthy weekend

A1-A2

Tick the items he orders in the list on the left page.

Listen again for the quantities and complete the statements in the box below.

A (one) kilo of _____ A bunch of _____

Half a kilo of _____ This head of _____

Two bunches of _____

Two kilos and a half of (two and a half kilos of) _____

Listen to the scene at the greengrocer's and complete this part of the dialogue.

Hm yes. This _____ cauliflower and _____ of _____.

Anything _____, sir?

The cherry _____?

Oh no. _____,
please.

Okay, _____.

And _____ of radishes. And that's it now.

Thank you very much, sir.
That'll be _____.

3 Herbs and health

A2

Study the paragraphs about herbs and answer the following questions.

Which are good for the stomach or digestion?

Which help against a cold or cough?

Which can you use on soups and/or salads?

Which goes well with lamb and meat dishes?

Compare your results with a partner.

4 How can I help you?

A1-A2

Can you help English-speaking customers with some herbs and vegetables?

Prepare a sales situation in a group of three, with two customers, and present your scene to the class.

Listen to the other presentations and take notes of what customers buy and how much.

The Vespa Primavera

For more than 50 years, Vespa has transported generation after generation of young people on its iconic vehicles. Today the legend returns and it has a completely new and futuristic look. The distinguishing change is the new body, with a host of new features and even better in quality. More space between handlebars and saddle as well as the new saddle height for improved contact with the ground, guarantee even greater comfort – for both rider and passenger. Its weight combined with its ergonomic advantages, and 11" wheels wrapped in tubeless tires make Vespa Primavera perfect for moving about through city traffic. LED daytime running lights and rear lamp, new digital instruments, including a trip computer, an enlarged helmet compartment under the seat bench together with the displays of the newest technology complete the premium equipment of this modern scooter.

The novel front suspension with the shock damper hinged to the base reduces vibration considerably. The newly constructed wheel suspension has a positive influence on the rolling characteristics and increases the riding comfort measurably.

At its heart sits the modern single-cylinder 125cc air cooled 4-stroke 3 V engine, with catalytic converter and electronic fuel injection for improved fuel consumption and reduced emissions. The unit delivers a maximum power of 11 Horsepower (7,9 kW) at 7,70 rpm.

All this power is kept under control by an automatic Twist and Go transmission with self-acting dry centrifugal clutch. This engine can send you to a maximum speed of 91 km/h.
